Kommunikative Unterrichtsformen	Das ABC von TPRS für HS u. College Lehrer
This seminar is about interactive ways of teaching German. The participants will personally experience the different methods of teaching by using them themselves in many interactive exercises during the seminar. With slight modifications the teaching methods presented in this seminar can be applied to almost all levels of German. After the seminar the participants will receive detailed handouts which include descriptions of each teaching method and how to apply it in the classroom. All activities are focused on spoken German, sometimes in combination with short phases of writing.	This workshop demonstrates what TPR storytelling has to offer German teachers of all levels, regardless of whether they teach middle school, high school, or college-level German. With hands-on demonstrations, you'll experience the approach and have a chance to interact with two colleagues with thriving German programs who put TPRS to use every day. Through interactive activities, you'll be able to see what elements of TPRS will work for you. You'll receive a copy of Jim's article in Die Unterrichtspraxis and many handouts with practical examples and ideas. And four lucky participants will receive a complete set of TPRS coursepack materials provided by the Davidheisers.
